DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-16, drawn to a housing for a dryer venting, classified in class 220, subclass 3.3.
- II. Claim 17, drawn to a method of installing, classified in class 52, subclass 741.1.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions Group I and group II are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case, the method could be used for vent having additional or different elements than those claimed in group I.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

During a telephone conversation with Mr. Rath on 2/9/05 a provisional election was made with traverse to prosecute the invention of Group I, claims 1-13. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claim 14 has been withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4, 6-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Harpenau (6419102).

A housing for a dryer venting comprising;

- A top wall 22
- A bottom wall 23
- two side walls 21a & 21b
- a rear wall 20 attached to the top, bottom and side walls
- The above walls are combined to define an inner space sized to house a portion of venting attached to a clothes dryer

- A front face 18/24 extending from one of the walls
- A standoff extending 25 rearwardly from the front face plate and having a portion; the standoff includes a hole which is adapted to receive a screw 32
- A knockout 69 is sized to receive a duct 49 attached to a clothes dryer; figures 6 and 7 formed in the top and side walls

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 5, 8-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Harpenau.

Variations exist in the specific manner of attachment used such as the post and bracket for holding the duct in place is viewed as an additional holding means for holding the duct to the housing; the same is not apart of the housing.

The top, bottom and side walls are attached to the rear wall with a certain angle; the exact angle has been considered a matter of choice; one of ordinary skill in the art would have appreciated any angle which would enable the housing to function as intended and purposed.

Variations exist in the standoff portion used to attach the housing to the wood stud; such variations do not hinder the housing to be properly and sufficiently attached to the studs. Applicant's structure has not been shown to be superior or better than that of Harpenau. One of ordinary skill in the art would have appreciated using any means of attachment, such as the beveled portion to assist in attachment, which would enable sufficient attachment of the standoff portion to the wood stud
